Question 34: Malteaser

Author: Harold Somers

Maltese is a Semitic language, arguably a dialect of Arabic, and is the national language of Malta, where it is spoken by about 560,000 people. Along with English it is an official language in Malta, and is also one of the European Union's official languages. Study the following Maltese nouns, which are given together with the definite article (meaning 'the'). The English translations are given for your information, but are not relevant to the problem.

il bar	(bar)	l hemm	(grief)	li bdiewa	(peasants)
il ktieb (*)	(book)	is sħana	(heat)	li mħadda	(pillow)
il ġobon (*)	(cheese)	id dar	(house)	il qassis	(priest)
iċ ċirasa	(cherry)	iż żir	(jug)	il ward	(roses)

Pronunciation guide:  $\dot{c} = 'ch'$  as in 'church' (IPA [tʃ]) ħ is a sound made at the back of the throat, like the 'ch' in German, but much further back, a voiceless pharyngeal fricative (IPA [ħ]). But the sequence 'għ', which is treated as a separate letter, is silent. j is like 'y' in 'yes' (IPA [j]) q is a glottal stop, the sound in the middle of 'uh-oh' (IPA [?])

All other letters have their expected values
